

Look at me now

Sammy Science

It wasn't all that long ago
When I was just a boy,
I loved to study Sciences
It brought me so much joy.

I wanted to make a difference,
Find cures for all disease,
So I started making potions
With such cool expertise.

I looked at our anatomy
And genes that make us smart,
And wondered how we mend a bone
Or fix a broken heart.

I had so many questions
On humans and our creation,
And I knew I had to go in search
Of all the information.

So as I grew, I studied hard
With patience and compliance,
It's really nice to meet you all
Hi, I'm Sammy Science.
